

JUNIOR CORPORATE/ COMMERCIAL LAWYER

Abu Dhabi Bilingual

One of the leading private equity houses in the Middle East, Gulf Capital, is seeking to further bolster its in-house legal capability in the Middle East, as acquisitional activity continues to increase. Having recently received the award for best 'newest private equity house' in the Middle East, this is an ideal opportunity to gain in-house experience with a high calibre front-line team, and to learn from its two existing in-house legal team. You will be expected to review, comment and draft a diverse range of commercial and corporate documents to include non-disclosure agreements, acquisition documents and JV agreements, amongst others. You will also be part of the legal advisory work with portfolio companies, work closely with the other members of the legal department on looking at and advising best structures for IPOs, creation of funds and transfer of shares internally.

Drafting, reviewing and checking various agreements and documentation in both Arabic and English will necessitate fluency in both Arabic and English. Between one and two years' practical experience at a law firm in corporate and commercial law is essential.
